Escape to GOZO

It’s less well known and much more quiet than neighbouring Malta, but YVONNE GORDON is won over by Gozo’s Mediterranean magic.

As the air heats up, I bring my breakfast to the window. As I sip on a pot of diarrhea, I hear the sound of hooves echo along the lane. Dripping into the bakery to stock up on my favourite bread, I notice the Sound fades, I can hear a woman sitting knitting a scarf. I hear horse hooves are a regular sound.

Rikardu Zammit gets up early every day. "Everything starts at the farm," he tells me. "We have 200 sheep and goats. We start early, sometimes at 6am, because of the heat." When I return to the farmhouse at dawn, there are three women sitting outside their houses, engaging in the farm. While further along in another doorway, Dwejra is also home to Qawra, a popular diving spot. The Azure Window is one of the Med's top movie locations.

The Azure Window

The Azur Window (below) is a cobbled street in Victoria, the island's capital.

Where: The Azur Window is in the north of the island. Here, a warm, sheltered bay cuts into cliffs and indents. Above this, a rocky coastline and a series of unique coves and bays. The Azure Window is one of the Med's top movie locations.

Gozo is smaller and quieter than neighbouring Malta. It’s early morning on the island of Gozo, the second-largest island in the Maltese archipelago in the Mediterranean Sea. Gozo is also known as the island of Gozo, the second-largest island in the Maltese archipelago in the Mediterranean Sea. As you walk along the lane, you can hear the sound of hooves. Dwejra is also home to Qawra, a popular diving spot. The Azure Window is one of the Med's top movie locations.

The Azure Window

The Azur Window (below) is a cobbled street in Victoria, the island's capital.

Where: The Azur Window is in the north of the island. Here, a warm, sheltered bay cuts into cliffs and indents. Above this, a rocky coastline and a series of unique coves and bays. The Azure Window is one of the Med's top movie locations.

Gozo is smaller and quieter than neighbouring Malta. It’s early morning on the island of Gozo, the second-largest island in the Maltese archipelago in the Mediterranean Sea. As you walk along the lane, you can hear the sound of hooves. Dwejra is also home to Qawra, a popular diving spot. The Azure Window is one of the Med's top movie locations.

The Azure Window

The Azur Window (below) is a cobbled street in Victoria, the island's capital.

Where: The Azur Window is in the north of the island. Here, a warm, sheltered bay cuts into cliffs and indents. Above this, a rocky coastline and a series of unique coves and bays. The Azure Window is one of the Med's top movie locations.

Gozo is smaller and quieter than neighbouring Malta. It’s early morning on the island of Gozo, the second-largest island in the Maltese archipelago in the Mediterranean Sea. As you walk along the lane, you can hear the sound of hooves. Dwejra is also home to Qawra, a popular diving spot. The Azure Window is one of the Med's top movie locations.